PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin

Norwich, Wednesday, March 29, 1922.

WEATHER

Conditions
The disturbance that was central over Kansas Monday night moved rapidly northeastward to the St. Lawrence valley where it was centered Tuesday night. Pressure remained high Tuesday off the South Atlantic coast and it was high and rising over the Upper Lake region and the Upper Mississippi and the Missouri valleys. This pressure distribution has been attended by rain over much of the country within the last 24 hours. The temperature continued much above normal Tuesday in the eastern states. The indications are for much cloudiness Wednesday and Thursday in the states east of the Mississippi river and rain is probable in the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic states Wednesday. The temperature will be considerably lower Wednesday and Thursday night east of the Mississippi river and the temperature changes will not be important Thursday.

Winds

North of Sandy Hook and Sandy Hook to Hatteras—Fresh to strong southwest shifting to west and north-west winds; overcast thick weather and rain Wednesday.

Forecast

Southern New England—Rain followed by cold Wednesday; Thursday fair and colder.

Observations in Norwich

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Tuesday:

	Ther. Bar.
7 a. m.	59.2
10 a. m.	59.2
1 p. m.	59.2
4 p. m.	59.2
High 58; lowest 48.

Comparisons

Predictions for Tuesday—Unsettled, probably rain.

Tuesday's weather—Fair in morning followed by cloudy, south wind.

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

GREENEVILLE

Work on the new permanent pavement for Bowwell avenue from the junction of North Main street to the city line was started on Monday. This piece of road has been a source of annoyance to all persons having occasion to travel over it for many years and anything to eliminate this bad stretch will be greatly appreciated.

Gustave Lambert who recently purchased some land on Prospect street, is having the land surveyed and cut into building lots.

The Woman's Guild of St. Andrew's church held a well attended meeting in the Guild room on Tuesday afternoon. Routine business was transacted and the women sewed. There meeting was followed by a devotional service at four o'clock.

The pastor, Rev. F. C. Williams will deliver an address on "The World's Great Labor Legislation."

At the Greenville Congregational church this evening there will be a meeting of the Ladies Aid society with a supper at 6:30 o'clock. On Thursday a barrel will be packed for the poor whites in the South. At the Thursday evening midweek prayer service the subject will be "Stewards of Redemption." Rev. Williams will hold a meeting on Friday evening in the church.

TAFTVILLE

Flocks of wild, gray geese passing over the village are a daily occurrence. These geese invariably fly in a peculiar triangular formation, and keep up a continuous honking as they fly. As yet no ducks have been seen in the Shetucket or the lower Quinebaug rivers. While these birds fly high enough to be practically out of range of gunshot, there is a stiff penalty attached to the killing of any game. The birds are on their way to the cold waters of Hudson Bay and Davis Strait, where they will remain throughout the nesting season.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy B. of North B. street have left town for Quebec, Canada, where they have purchased a home. They will be accompanied by their daughter, the Misses Lucille and Evelyn Parent, and Mrs. Parent has decided to stay in this village for about three years, moving here from Norwich, and giving their stay there have made many friends.

The local Red Cross has been advised that their assistance will probably be required in fighting forest fires. Their attention has been called to the fact that this is the most dangerous time of the year for woodland fires. Within the last few days there have been reported in the outlying districts the past few days, there was a large fire in Lebanon about a mile from where the town was seriously threatened, and was saved only by the assistance of neighbors.

Rev. John G. Dutton of Agawam, Mass., will occupy the pulpit at the Taftville Congregational church on Sunday morning, and will address the Taftville ends in the evening. Rev. Mr. Dutton was for twenty years the pastor of the Taftville church in Taftville, N. H., and he will know to some of the students of this village.

Miss Harbar McInnis has taken a house on South B. street.

Lower Northville avenue to the city line is being traveled to a lot of cars and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ingram and son Robert of Norwich were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hurd on South Front street.

Arthur Bennett of South Slater avenue has resigned his position with the Forestry commission.

Local trout fishermen have their rods and tackle ready to whip the local trout water Saturday when the taking of these fish is permitted by law.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Fancher and family of Norwich avenue have left town for Canada where they will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bentley of Pawtucket, R. I., formerly of Norwich, have returned after spending a few days in the city with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Addison of Pawtucket.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bower of North Front street have been guests of friends in Springfield, Mass., making the trip in their motor.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hinde and son Edmund of North Slater avenue, with Mr. and Mrs. George Brainer of Lafayette street, Norwich, spent a short time last week with friends in Providence, R. I., making the trip by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Edwards and the Misses Loretta and Natalie, R. I., spent the weekend with relatives in the village.

Mrs. Luther frequently in a New London jewelry store and that he had "found Mrs. Luther very pleasant." He had discussed current topics with her and that she dressed in good taste. In his opinion, Mrs. Luther was sane.

Under cross examination, Mr. Costello admitted that he couldn't tell just what Mrs. Luther wore, when she was in the store last, when he last saw her, that he had never talked with Mrs. Luther about her mother, sister, or other relatives or her property. He admitted that it was possible for a person to walk into the store, exchange greetings with the clerk, make a purchase and walk out and still be insane.

Miss Harriet E. Forsythe, retired school teacher, said that she only had a classing record book, deposit cards and deposit envelopes. Monday is bank day. The procedure for the teacher is as follows:

1. Enters date and amount of deposit on pupil's record book, deposit cards and deposit envelopes.
2. Writes pupil's name and amount deposited in the record book.
3. Checks record sheet with cash received.
4. Removes record sheet from the book leaving carbon copy as permanent record.
5. Places record sheet with money in deposit envelope, writing date, amount of deposit, and her name on the outside.
6. Delivers envelope to principal together with deposit card and cash received.
7. The principal lists the amount of deposits by rooms on the deposit slip, puts the deposit envelopes, deposit cards, and bank books in a large envelope and sends them to the bank. The rest of the work is done by the bank. Teachers are made and bank books and deposit cards are returned to the schools before the next deposit date. The work is proved each week by the bank. The bank sends the supervisor a detailed monthly report giving the standing of the various schools.
8. The following figures are the returns for the first half-year:

	Mont-	Water-
Total deposits	$1,624.23	$1,322.56
Enrollment	618	655
No. depositors	434	363
No. bank books issued	156	142

The success of the system is due to:

1. Simplicity and minimum of work for teachers.
2. No left-over accounts at end of the year.
3. Co-operation of the bank which:
- a. Provides posters and thrift literature.
- b. Offers prize to school having largest number of regular depositors for the year.
- c. Offers prizes for thrift essays.
- d. Pays for postage and money orders for rural schools.
- e. Monthly statements by supervisor printed in each room giving standing for every room in the two towns.
- f. Enthusiastic co-operation of the teachers.

SUITS OVER BAYSIDE

Two suits brought against Charles L. Johnson of Providence by Louis J. Webb of Groton over Webb's purchase of the Bayside Inn at Groton have been withdrawn without costs from the superior court.

The suits were brought in June, 1920, on the allegation that the defendant had made false representations on which

POETRY

I KNOW WHERE 'NEATH THE CEDARS TALL.
I know where 'neath the cedars tall
A little brook winds out
Through tangled swamp and ruined wall
With many a ripple musical
And many a silver waterfall
O'er pools for speckled trout.

From budding maples comes a glow
Like sanctuaries fire
O let me take my staff and go
Where early blossoms mock the snow,
And meadow-larks away to fro,
A joyous vernal choir.

The Spring is pulsing in my heart.
Urging me forth again
To some far woodland scene apart
Where shadows reach a slippery stair
Or forest creatures pause and start
In magical train.

A while shall pass the busy care
Of street and desk and book
And singing through the April air
With red and black and white and blue
To seek thy passage dearest,
—F. H. McMahon, in Boston Transcript.

SAND WILL DO IT.

I observed a locomotive in the railroad yards one day.
It was waiting in the roundhouse where the locomotives stay.
It was waiting for the train, it was waiting for the train, it was waiting for the train.

It appeared the locomotive cannot wait
On their tender iron pavement, 'cause the wheels are apt to slip;
And when they reach a slippery spot,
And to get a grip upon the rail they sprinkle it with sand.

It's about the way with travel along life's railroad.
If your load is heavier than you're fit to carry,
So, if a locomotive you completely understand,
You'll provide yourself in starting with a good supply of sand.

If your track is steep and hilly, and you have a heavy grade,
If those who've gone before you have the rails quite slippery made,
If you're at the summit of the upper tableland,
You'll find you have to do it with a liberal use of sand.

If you strike some frigid weather and that your fire is low,
That your boiler is cold, and you're on a heavy cost of frost,
Then some decided action will be called in motion,
And you'll slip away to the bottom if you haven't any sand.

You can get to any station that is on life's schedule road,
If there's first the boiler of ambition's strong machine,
And you'll reach a place called Fulfillment at a rate of progress grand,
If for all the slippery places you've a good supply of sand.
